2017 Community Awards

The Centerville Lions Club presented its annual Community Awards Monday evening, April 24, at the Centerville High School Cafetorium.

The Centerville-Abington Dollars for Scholars program received a group award. Chartered in 2004, the organization is run by a board of dedicated volunteers. The board has raised $217,815 and granted 235 scholarships to graduating seniors of Centerville High School. The organization is partnered with the Wayne County Foundation to invest and manage the funds. Accepting the award were board president Kyle Turner, vice president Jason Troutwine, treasurer Marcia Foster and members Sara Coulter and Debbie Perry.

Chuck McGill received the Outstanding Citizen Award. Chuck was cited for his work in his church, scouting, Junior Achievement, Centerville-Center Township Library Board, his donation of dozens of gallons of blood through the Community Blood Center and reporting on Bulldog athletics in his spare time for the Western Wayne News.

Longtime Lions Club member Bill Felker was presented the 2017 Outstanding Lions Service Award. He has served as webmaster for the Lions Club web page and editor of Along the Lions Trail bulletin for the past 15 years. Over the years Lion Bill has served many civic organizations and retired in 2000 from broadcasting after 40 years.

The awards have been presented since 1986 with the exception of 2010 and 2012.
