Centerville Lions present Centerville Police with gift

The Centerville Lions Club presented the Centerville Police Department $1,000 in observance of the 100th anniversary of Lions Club International Monday evening, October 9. The presentation was made by club treasurer Dennis Stephen. Accepting for the department were Commissioner Dan Wandersee and Sgt. Matt Alexander.

Program chair Ty Farmer presented a plaque to Sgt. Matt Alexander in memory of K9 officer Kendra who died a couple of weeks ago. Alexander said it is not out of the picture to replace the dog sometime in the future.

Centerville Police Commissioner Dan Wandersee updated club members on what has been happening at the police department recently. He said the police force has been increased to six officers which helps with shift rotation. They have also purchased a new 4wd Ford pickup truck as an additional vehicle for the department. Wandersee also invited Lions to visit the new department which is located in the old INDOT building east of Centerville. He said it provides a new training room, interrogation room and spaces for the officers. Wandersee said drugs are the biggest challenge they have, although they have not seen the increase as other surrounding communities.
