The Centerville Lions Club installed officers for 2017-2018 at its meeting Monday evening, June 12, at the Centerville Senior Center. They take over July 1.

They are: Joe Elstro, president, Ty Farmer, 1st vice president and Bob Hobson, 2nd vice president.

Wendy Kornman and Dennis Stephen remain secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Other officers: Paul Estro and Steve Sheckles remain Tail Twister and assistant Tail Twister. Steve Sheckles also will serve as Lion Tamer again assisted by Kevin Sparks.

Cyrstal Kaulen will be membership chair and Bob Hobson stays on at Safety Officer.

Board of Directors; 2 years: Tim McConaha and Dennis Stephen. 1 year: Jim Resh and Wendy Kornman.

Changes may be coming to annual fish fry

Two Lions Club members have been appointed to study possible changes to the annual Fish Fry in the future. Lions Dennis Stephen and Bob Hobson have been given authority to approve changes if they seem feasible. A major change would be having a Fish Fry service prepare the fish and/or pork tenderloins for them. The Club would supply the rest of the menu.

Stephen, who also serves as club treasurer, said either way the price for the dinner will probably increase next year. Meals were $10 this year with pre-sale tickets at $9.

Stephen reported estimated profit this year around 16-hundred dollars.

A steady stream of fish lovers enjoyed a meal at the 38th Annual Centerville Lions Club Fish on Friday, June 9. Karen Ringley and Pat Tremps of Centerville were the first to go through the line on Friday morning. The Club thanks its many friends for making this another successful year.
