Lions Learn About Cross Road Christian Recovery Center For Women

Jodi Reed (l) & Wendy Canon

Centerville Lions learned about the Cross Road Christian Recovery Center for Women at its meeting Monday evening, April 26. Executive Director Wendy Canon said the Center is an outreach of Shepherd's Way Christian Ministries and offers a Christ and Bible centered program for women struggling with alcohol and drug addiction.

Canon said, "History of the program began when Paul Rose began a six-month program for men in 2002 and six years later his wife Karen added the program for women." She added, "Women needed more time to be healed."

Canon joined the organization in 2013, but is leaving in May of this year. She introduced Jodi Reed who will be replacing her on May 15 as Canon and her husband Tom leave for Minnesota and a new challenge called Smile Again Ministries. <https://www.smileagainministries.org/>

Jodi herself has gone through the program graduating in September of 2018. She told Lions people sometimes need help to change their lives. So far over 600 women have gone through the program.

More information about the program is available on their web site: www.crossroadchristianrecovery.org.

Several Lions brought supplies used by the center to the meeting. And they voted to support the program with a $100 gift.
